

Saint Louis-Marie de Montfort's
Total Consecration to Jesus
Through Mary

Overview of the Five Week Preparation for Consecration

St. Louis-Marie breaks the preparation into weeks, each week having its own prayers, and each particular day having its own brief readings with which to fill the mind for that day. We should not just read the readings, but we need to internalize them; we cannot just mouth the prayers, we need to truly pray them.

In the first week we seek to recognize and reject the spirit of the world, which Our Lord says is the spirit of Satan. We must first recognize that spirit, because we cannot and will not fight an enemy that we don't recognize as such. That recognition is not easy to attain, because we are tainted by the age in which we live, and we don't easily see the evil around us for what it is.

Once we have recognized the world's spirit for what it is, we want to develop in our hearts an intense revulsion for it, it being so contrary to the spirit of Our Lord and our Lady, to whom we wish to consecrate ourselves.

Having seen the spirit of the world in its true light, in the second week we want to see how we ourselves have been infected by that spirit, and the damage it has done to us. We turn our gaze, then, from the outside world to our own souls. We want to see ourselves as we really are, in other words, to see ourselves as God sees us. Most people do not know themselves very well. Pride is one reason – it tends to distort the picture. The habit of comparing self to others rather than to God is another reason.

True knowledge of self is indispensable to progress in the spiritual life, for if we don't see that we fall short, we will make no attempt to remedy the problem.

We cannot truly love Our Lady if we know but little about her, and we will not serve her well unless we have a great love for her. Therefore, we will spend the third week of preparation, getting to know Our Lady better. We want see her beauty, her virtue, and the incredible role that she has as our mother.

To truly know Mary well is a great privilege and a tremendous grace, one that we must earnestly ask Our Lord Jesus Christ for. It is a grace He Loves to give.

If we love and wish to serve Our Lady, it is only on account of Our Lord. We love Our Lady only because she is the Mother of God and she served Him so perfectly. We wish to serve her by consecrating ourselves to her only because we know that she will show us the way to her Son. Our real goal, then, is to love Mary's Son, Jesus. But just as we said that we cannot love or serve Mary unless we know her well, so it is true of Our Lord. Thus, we will spend the fourth week of preparation getting to know Our Lord better.

The best way to know Our Lord is to reflect on Him in His Passion, and in the Holy Eucharist. There we will see most clearly the Heart of Jesus, His love for us, and His willingness to suffer for us.

We want to spend the fifth week of preparation considering the offering we are about to make in the consecration. What does it mean, practically speaking, to "consecrate" oneself to Mary? The actual prayer of consecration tells much, so we can do no better than to read it and reread it, reflecting on its meaning.

It is important to now consider as well what we will do, practically speaking, to assure that we continue day by day our efforts to live the consecration once we have made it. To renew each morning our consecration is one way. But what else can we do to be sure that our hearts always belong entirely to Our Lady?

Readings and Prayers for St. Louis-Marie de Montfort's Total Consecration to Jesus through Mary

First Week of Preparation

After the daily reading, recite the Ave Maris Stella (pray for courage, generosity, love of God) – p. 45

Monday of the 1st Week

We are all the children of our age. It is said that you cannot leave clothes in a smoky room, without them taking on the smell of smoke. Similarly, by living in an age whose spirit is radically opposed to that of Christ, it is only to be expected that most of us will become tainted by that spirit in one way or another, to a greater or lesser degree.

In this first period of preparation, we are encouraged to look around and see what exactly constitutes the Spirit of the World, so as to develop both an awareness and a revulsion for a Spirit so radically opposed to the Spirit of Christ. This Spirit is usually manifested through a desire of independence from God; and is visible by the concupiscence of the flesh, the concupiscence of the eyes and the pride of life. It disobeys the laws of God and all lawful authority; it abuses created things. Its works can be seen to flow from the Seven Capital Sins—Pride, Covetousness, Gluttony, Anger, Lust, Envy and Sloth and they darken our mind; seduce, weaken and corrupt our will.

Through this Spirit of the World, the devil makes sin look splendid, charming and alluring in persons, places and things. To overcome this spirit, we must be able to recognize it in those selfsame persons, places and things; and we must pray and mortify ourselves to purify ourselves of its effects.

Salt and Light

You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt lose its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is good for nothing any more but to be cast out, and to be trodden on by men. You are the light of the world. A city seated on a mountain cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick, that it may shine to all that are in the house. So let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. (Mt. 5:13-16)

Tuesday of the 1st Week

The Spirit of the World

This worldly wisdom consists in the exact compliance with the maxims and the fashions of the world; in a continuous trend toward greatness and esteem. It is a secret and unceasing pursuit of pleasures and personal interests, not in a gross and open manner, so as to cause scandal, but in a secret, deceitful and scheming fashion. Otherwise, it would not be what the world calls wisdom, but rank licentiousness.

Those who proceed according to the wisdom of the world, are those who know how to manage well their affairs and to arrange things to their temporal advantage, without appearing to do so;

- who know the art of deceiving and how to cleverly cheat without it being noticed; who say or do one thing and have another thing in mind;
- who are thoroughly acquainted with the way and the flattery of the world;
- who know how to please everybody, in order to reach their goal, not troubling much about the honor and interests of God;
- who make a secret, but deadly, fusion of truth with untruth; of the Gospel with the world; of virtue with vice; of Jesus Christ with Satan;
- who wish to pass for honest people, but not as religious men; who despise and corrupt; or readily condemn every religious practice which does not conform to their own.

The Roads that Lead to Heaven and Hell

Enter ye in at the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there are who go in there at. How narrow is the gate, and strait is the way that leadeth to life: and few there are that find it! Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. By their fruits you shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and the evil tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can an evil tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits you shall know them. (Mt. 7:10-20)

Wednesday of the 1st Week

The Ten Commandments of the Worldly Man

1. Thou shalt be well acquainted with the world.
2. Thou shalt appear to be an honest man.
3. Thou shalt be successful in business.
4. Thou shalt keep what is thine.
5. Thou shalt get on in the world.
6. Thou shalt be popular.
7. Thou shalt fit in.
8. Thou shalt make merry.
9. Thou shalt not be a killjoy.
10. Thou shalt avoid singularity, dullness and an air of piety.

Not Everyone that Says Lord, Lord, Shall Go to Heaven

Not everyone that saith to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doth the will of my Father who is in heaven, he shall enter into the kingdom of heaven. Many will say to me in that day: Lord, Lord, have not we prophesied in thy name, and cast out devils in thy name, and done many miracles in thy name? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, you that work iniquity. Every one therefore that heareth these my words, and doth them, shall be likened to a wise man that built his house upon a rock, And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and they beat upon that house, and it fell not, for it was founded on a rock. And every one that heareth these my words, and doth them not, shall be like a foolish man that built his house upon the sand, And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and they beat upon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall thereof. And it came to pass when Jesus had fully ended these words, the people were in admiration at his doctrine. For he was teaching them as one having power, and not as the scribes and Pharisees. (Mt. 7:21-29)

Thursday of the 1st Week

Pride

Judge not, that you may not be judged, For with what judgment you judge, you shall be judged: and with what measure you mete, it shall be measured to you again. Any why seest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye; and seest not the beam that is in thy own eye? Or how sayest thou to thy brother: Let me cast the mote out of thy eye; and behold a beam is in thy own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam in thy own eye, and then shalt thou see to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye. (Mt. 7:1-5)

Parable of the Pharisee and the Publican

There were some who had confidence in themselves, thinking they had won acceptance with God, and despised the rest of the world; to them he addressed this other parable: Two men went up into the temple to pray; one was a Pharisee, the other a publican. The Pharisee stood upright, and made this prayer in his heart, I thank thee, God, that I am not like the rest of men, who steal and cheat and commit adultery, or like this publican here; for myself, I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess. And the publican stood far off; he would not even lift up his eyes towards heaven; he only beat his breast, and said, God, be merciful to me; I am a sinner. I tell you, this man went back home higher in God's favor than the other; everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled, and the man who humbles himself shall be exalted. (Lk 18:9-14)

Friday of the 1st Week

Covetousness

Lay not up to yourselves treasures on earth: where the rust, and moth consume, and where thieves break through and steal. But lay up to yourselves treasures in heaven: where neither the rust nor moth doth consume, and where thieves do not break through, nor steal. For where thy treasure is, there is thy heart also...No man can serve two masters. For either he will hate the one, and love the other: or he will sustain the one, and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon. (Mt. 6:19-24)

Therefore I say to you, be not solicitous for your life, what you shall eat, nor for your body, what you shall put on. Is not the life more than the meat: and the body more than the raiment? Behold the birds of the air, for they neither sow, nor do they reap, nor gather into barns: and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not you of much more value than they? And which of you by taking thought, can add to his stature one cubit? And for raiment why are you solicitous? (Mt. 6:25-28).

Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they labor not, neither do they spin. But I say to you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these. And if the grass of the field, which is today, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, God doth so clothe: how much more you, O ye of little faith? Be not solicitous therefore, saying, What shall we eat: or what shall we drink, or wherewith shall we be clothed? For after all these things do the heathens seek. For your Father knoweth that you have need of all these things. Seek ye therefore first the kingdom of God, and his justice, and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mt. 6: 28-33)

Saturday of the 1st Week

Gluttony

There was a rich man once, that was clothed in purple and lawn, and feasted sumptuously every day. And there was a beggar, called Lazarus, who lay at his gate, covered with sores, wishing that he could be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table, but none was ready to give them to him; the very dogs came and licked his sores. Time went on; the beggar died, and was carried by the angels to Abraham's bosom; the rich man died too, and found his grave in hell. And there, in his suffering, he lifted up his eyes, and saw Abraham far off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he said, with a loud cry, Father Abraham, take pity on me; send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; I am tormented in this flame. But Abraham said, My son, remember that thou didst receive thy good fortune in thy life-time, and Lazarus, no less, his ill fortune; now he is in comfort, thou in torment. And, besides all this, there is a great gulf fixed between us and you, so that there is no passing from our side of it to you, no crossing over to us from yours. Whereupon he said, Then, Father, I pray thee send him to my own father's house; for I have five brethren; let him give these a warning, so that they may not come, in their turn, into this place of suffering. Abraham said to him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them listen to these. They will not do that, Father Abraham, said he; but if a messenger comes to them from the dead, they will repent. But he answered him, If they do not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will be unbelieving still, though one should rise from the dead. (Lk. 16:19-31)

Lust

For what things a man shall sow, those also shall he reap. For he that soweth in his flesh, of the flesh also shall reap corruption. But he that soweth in the spirit, of the spirit shall reap life everlasting. (Gal. 6:8)

They allure by the desires of fleshly riotousness, . . . promising liberty, whereas they themselves are the slaves of corruption. For by whom a man is overcome, of the same also he is the slave. (II Peter 2:18-19)

Sunday of the 1st Week

The Christian Spirit

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain, and when he was set down, his disciples came unto him. And opening his mouth, he taught them, saying: Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are the meek: for they shall possess the land. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice: for they shall have their fill. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the clean of heart: for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called children of God. Blessed are they that suffer persecution for justice' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when they shall revile you, and persecute you, and speak all that is evil against you, untruly, for my sake: Be glad and rejoice, for your reward is very great in heaven. For so they persecuted the prophets that were before you. (Mt. 5:1-12)

Ask, Seek and Knock

Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and you shall find: knock, and it shall be opened to you. For every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened. Or what man is there among you, of whom if his son shall ask bread, will he reach him a stone? Or if he shall ask him a fish, will he reach him a serpent? If you then being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children: how much more will your Father who is in heaven, give good things to them that ask him? All things therefore whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do you also to them. For this is the law and the prophets. (Mt. 7:7-11)

Second Week of Preparation

After the daily reading, recite the Veni Creator (pray to see clearly, to see as God sees), p. 44

Monday of the 2nd Week

Knowledge of Self is the Foundation of Sanctity

Chosen soul, living image of God and redeemed by the Precious Blood of Jesus Christ, God wants you to become holy like Him in this life, and glorious like Him in the next...It is certain that growth in the holiness of God is your vocation. All your thoughts, words, actions, everything you suffer or undertake, must lead you towards that end. Otherwise you are resisting God, in not doing the work for which He created you and for which He is even now keeping you in being (Secret of Mary, §3).

This is nothing other than what Our Lord meant, when He said: Be you therefore perfect, as also your heavenly Father is perfect (Mt. 5:48). We therefore belong entirely to Him; and it is our duty to fulfill His desire that we become perfect—for, after all, it is only saints that go to heaven. That sanctity is achieved here below, or in the fires of Purgatory. Ask yourself candidly: “Have I always looked upon myself in that light?” When you have performed any seemingly great act of self-sacrifice, etc., have you regarded it as a small thing and nothing more than your duty? If this is how you approach the things you do for God, well and good. It is the right light in which to view what you do, because it is a truthful light.

This self-knowledge will go on increasing until the day of your death. Nevertheless, if you earnestly strive to spend this week in the endeavor to know yourself you will have made a great step in laying the foundation-stone of all sanctity, which is self-knowledge, the lowly sentiment of yourself as a creature, or in other words, the virtue of humility. Perhaps, until now, you have not been aware how much you needed this virtue.

Knowing Oneself

Interior persons prefer to look after themselves before worrying about other matters; and he that diligently attends to himself, is easily silent with regard to others. You will never be an interior and devout person, unless you pass over the concerns of others in silence, so as to better look after yourself. If you pay attention to your own way of life and to God, then you will hardly be concerned and agitated at what goes on around you.

If you wish to have true peace of soul and union with God, then you must set everything else aside and turn your gaze upon yourself, not others. Then, being free of all temporal care, curiosity and anxiety, you will make great progress. But if you attach yourself to temporal things and concerns, then you will fail greatly.

Tuesday of the 2nd Week

Catholic Sinners are Worse than Pagan Sinners

Many sinners in the world may have never been baptized; never taught the Faith; never received the extra graces and inspirations of God as we have; never had the many helps and structures that the Church gives us and surrounds us with. Yet we are temples of the Holy Ghost, temples of an all-pure and all-holy God! We were consecrated to the service of God at our baptism and we have desecrated that temple by sin! We have committed a sacrilege of sorts! I doubt if there are very many Catholics who have sufficiently considered this truth. Very few Catholics have considered their sins to be more serious than those of non-Catholics—people who have never been taught the Faith, nor received the sacraments and their graces.

Think of this truth and while you consider it, forget not to return thanks to the remarkable providence of God, that so guarded you from the evils and temptations which would have been too strong for you. While you are considering what you are in the sight of God, be sure to thank Him for Our Lady, who turned out to be the only created person never to offend Him by the ingratitude of sin. Thank Him for bringing you, by His grace, to this special moment in your life, whereby this spotless and powerful masterpiece of God's, will take you under her protection and guidance.

Leave the Past and Yourself Behind

Finally, since we are seeking knowledge of ourselves, it would be well to consider the greatness of our dignity before the fall of our first parents into Original Sin. Despite Original Sin and our own actual sins, we were, nevertheless, made a "little lower than the angels"—we are, so to speak, their younger brethren. In Adam, we were all created potentially immaculate. Had Adam and Eve not sinned, their children could have been born in the state of sanctifying grace. They would all have had the same chance as their parents of not-dying, providing they avoided sin! Yet it was sin that brought death and tragedy into the world. Through the sin of one man, death entered the world.

Think of the union between God and yourself, first entered into at Baptism, when you became a temple of the Holy Ghost. Think of the intimate union achieved at your first Holy Communion. Yet, how have we treated God since that day? Let us now, at least for the future, resolve to do better than we have in the past. The purpose of looking so deeply into our past, is to make us so horrified of what we have done, so that we really seek to leave its sinfulness and horror behind us, as we turn towards a new and better life of serving Him within the ranks of His Heavenly Mother's army.

Wednesday of the 2nd Week

Imitation of Christ*, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 1, Chapter 25 On the Fervent Amendment of our Whole Life

When a certain anxious person, who often times wavered between hope and fear, once overcome with sadness, threw himself upon the ground in prayer, before one of the altars in the Church and thinking these things in his mind, said "Oh, if I only knew how to persevere," that very instant he heard within him, this heavenly answer: "And if thou didst know this, what would thou do? Do now what you would do, and thou shall be perfectly secure." And immediately being consoled, and comforted, he committed himself to the Divine Will, and his anxious thoughts ceased. He no longer wished for curious things; searching to find out what would happen to him, but studied rather to learn what was the acceptable and perfect will of God for the beginning and the perfection of every good work.

“Hope in the Lord,” said the Prophet, “And do all good, and inhabit the land, and thou shall be fed of the riches thereof.” There is one thing that keeps many back from spiritual progress, and from fervor in amendment namely: the labor that is necessary for the struggle. And assuredly they especially advance beyond others in virtues, who strive the most manfully to overcome the very things which are the hardest and most contrary to them. For there a man does profit more and merit more abundant grace, when he does most to overcome himself and mortify his spirit. All have not, indeed, equal difficulties to overcome and mortify, but a diligent and zealous person will make a greater progress though he has more passions than another, who is well regulated but less fervent in the pursuit of virtues.

Thursday of the 2nd Week

Based on Fr. Eugene Boylan’s book, This Tremendous Lover, Chapter 9

Hope and Confidence in God

Sometimes, the sight of our many sins can induce despondency, or even despair. That is not the work of God, but of the devil. God loves the sinner, but hates the sin. If you can arrive at that same hatred of sin, then there is nothing to worry about—no matter how great or frequent those sins may have been! Our Lord Himself said: “I came not to call the just, but sinners to penance.” (Lk. 5:32). Remember, there is no sin that cannot be forgiven. “If your sins be as scarlet, they shall be made as white as snow: and if they be red as crimson, they shall be white as wool.” (Is 1:18) All God wants is repentance and sorrow for past sin.

Rise to a New Life

The Sacrament of Confession casts away our transgressions and gives us a new heart and a new spirit. It is a spiritual resurrection.

Perfect Contrition

The Sacrament of Confession was instituted for the remission of all sins committed after Baptism. Mortal sins must be remitted, either through a perfect sorrow (contrition) which arises out of the love of God, not a love of ourselves or our own interests, nor from a servile fear of God and His punishments. or, in the normal way, through the Sacrament of Penance.

Attrition

Mortal sins are more usually remitted in the confessional, where an imperfect sorrow called “attrition” suffices; such a sorrow, rather than being based on a profound love of God, would merely have as its root an imperfect motive of sorrow such as the fear of losing heaven, or the fear of hell.

Sorrow and Feelings

Since sorrow is an act of the will, it will not always be felt. It is exceptional to find those who sincerely shed tears over their sins, or who feel the loss of God so much, that it is a greater pain than any other pain. Yet that does not lessen the value of their sorrow for sin. Feelings have nothing to do with it. The real measure and test of the depth of sorrow is the will and decision to avoid sin in the future.

Friday of the 2nd Week

The Mercies of God Are Above all His Works

It is of capital importance that we never ever let our past sins—no matter how great or filthy they may have been—come between God and ourselves, or make us in any way doubt God’s love, friendship and mercy. As the Psalmist says: “The Lord is gracious and merciful: patient and plenteous in mercy.” (Ps.144:8). God does not do things by halves. When He forgives sins, He forgives completely. Their guilt is blotted out entirely and He will not reproach us with them again.

Yet, His generosity goes even further. When a soul falls into mortal sin, all the merits from its past life are lost. If, however, the soul repents and obtains pardon, these merits revive again. Such is God’s generosity and love.

God loves to bring good out of evil. He did so with St. Paul, with Mary Magdalen, with St. Augustine, with St. John of God, with St. Matthew Talbot and many, many more. It is our lack of confidence that places obstacles in the way. Remember, we can be more pleasing to God by a life of ardent love after our sin, than the lukewarm life of our previous innocence. Truly God can bring good out of evil!

Pay Now, or Pay Later

When a sinner has made a good confession, his mortal sins are forgiven; the eternal punishment they earned is remitted. Yet this does not mean that the temporal punishment is automatically remitted in the bargain. God forgives and restores us to His friendship, but the damage of sin requires satisfaction. We either satisfy in this life, or in Purgatory.

Satisfaction for Sin

The “penance” that the priest imposes on us, in confession, has a very special efficacy for making satisfaction for our sins. However, whatever penance he may impose, does not necessarily pay the entire debt of temporal punishment that we have incurred. In most cases, it should be only looked upon as a “down-payment” on the temporal debt that we still owe. All our good works and all that we willingly suffer, can be used to make satisfaction for our sins and we can even invoke the merits of Christ, those of His Mother and all the saints, on our behalf. It is important to realize that there is a great difference between making satisfaction for our sins in Purgatory and doing so here on earth. In Purgatory the sufferings are much greater and we cannot gain any merit from them. Here on earth, we make satisfaction with far less suffering, and every act we perform, for that end, can be meritorious.

Saturday of the 2nd Week

Luke 13:1-5

Examples inviting Repentance

And there were present, at that very time, some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

And he answering, said to them: Think you that these Galileans were sinners above all the men of Galilee, because they suffered such things? No, I say to you: but unless you shall do penance, you shall all likewise perish. Or those eighteen upon whom the tower fell in Siloe, and slew them: think you, that they also were debtors above all the men that dwelt in Jerusalem? No, I say to you; but except you do penance, you shall all likewise perish.

True Devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary, Nos. 81 & 82 - We Need Mary in order to Die to Ourselves

In order to empty ourselves of self, we must die daily to ourselves. This involves our renouncing what the powers of the soul and the senses of the body incline us to do. We must see as if we did not see, hear as if we did not hear and use the things of this world as if we did not use them. This is what St. Paul calls “dying daily”. Unless the grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single grain and does not bear any good fruit. If we do not die to self and if our holiest devotions do not lead us to this necessary and fruitful death, we shall not bear fruit of any worth and our devotions will cease to be profitable. All our good works will be tainted by self-love and self-will so that our greatest sacrifices and our best actions will be unacceptable to God. Consequently, when we come to die we shall find ourselves devoid of virtue and merit and discover that we do not possess even one spark of that pure love which God shares only with those who have died to themselves and whose life is hidden with Jesus Christ in him.

Sunday of the 2nd Week

From Three Ages of the Interior Life, Introduction and Chapter 2, by Rev. Fr. Garrigou-Lagrange, O.P.

The interior life is an elevated form of intimate conversation which everyone has with themselves as soon as they are alone, even amongst the noise of a great city. From the moment a man ceases to converse with others, he begins to converse interiorly with himself about what preoccupies him the most.

As soon as a man seriously seeks truth and goodness, this intimate conversation with himself tends to become conversation with God. He converses with himself about what he should do to live a good life; he recognizes and feels his weakness and the need for placing his confidence, not in himself, but in God. Little by little, instead of seeking himself in everything, instead of tending more or less consciously to make himself a center, man tends to seek God in everything and, as a substitute for his own egoism, he focuses more on God and neighbor.

While still in a state of mortal sin, this man may have Christian faith and hope, which remain in us even after the loss of charity, as long as we have not sinned mortally by disbelief, despair or presumption. When this is so, this man's intimate interior conversation with himself is occasionally illumined by the supernatural light of faith; now and then he thinks of eternal life and desires it, although this desire remains weak. He is sometimes led by a special inspiration to enter a church to pray.

Finally, if this man has attrition for his sins, confesses them and receives absolution for them, he receives the state of grace and charity, the love of God and neighbor. Thenceforth, when he is alone, his intimate interior conversation with himself changes. He begins to love himself in a holy manner, not for himself, but for God, and to love his neighbor for God's sake. He begins to understand that he must pardon his enemies and love them, and to wish eternal life for them as he does for himself.

In a man's hours of solitude, this intimate conversation begins again, in spite of everything, as if to prove to him that it cannot stop. He would like to interrupt it and end it, but he cannot do so. The center of the soul has an unrestrainable need which demands satisfaction. In reality, God alone can answer this need and the only solution is to immediately take the road leading to Him. The soul must converse with someone other than itself. Why? Because it is not its own last end; because its end is the living God, and it cannot rest entirely except in Him. As St. Augustine puts it: "Our heart is restless, until it reposes in Thee."

Third Week

After the daily reading, recite the Litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary p. 46

Monday of the 3rd Week

Getting to Know Mary

This week is devoted to meditating upon Mary and humbly asking God to grant us the grace to know Mary better. If we wish to know Mary, then we must earnestly beg Him for this grace and privilege and, besides praying for it, we should also offer up some little acts of mortification, denial of our own will, our desires and tastes, etc.

Mary Our Mother

This will be the first thought in our minds that Mary, though a virgin, is also a Mother—the Mother of God and our Mother too. We will imprint upon our minds the fact that Mary loves us more, far more, than our natural mothers could possibly love us—even more than we could love ourselves. Since she became the Mother of Men, she has never stopped showing herself a Mother to all who have gone to her for help. He who is mighty has done great things to her; and she in turn, who is mighty through the power of her divine motherhood, has done great things for those who have sought her intercession. She has been and will continue to be the cause of our joy until the end of time.

Devotion Takes Time to Grow

True Devotion must grow through several stages—just like a seed, once planted, must go through different stages of growth until it finally matures and brings forth much fruit. Do not imagine that the moment you make the True Devotion Consecration, you will become a saint! Devotion to Mary implicitly requires this total consecration of ourselves to her, and through her to God. To do this, we must imitate the interior life of Mary...her virtues...her actions...her supernatural way of seeing things...her participation in the salvation of souls...her union with God. Always remembering that “Where Mary is, there also is God!” However, before we can imitate anyone, we must first carefully observe and study that person. Consequently, we will study the Blessed Mother in order to imitate her virtues and absorb the spirit that animates her.

Tuesday of the 3rd Week

Acts of love, pious affection for the Blessed Virgin, imitation of her virtues, especially her profound humility, her lively faith, her blind obedience, her continual mental prayer, her mortification in all things, her surpassing purity, her ardent charity, her heroic patience, her angelic sweetness, and her divine wisdom: “there being,” as St. Louis De Montfort says, “the ten principal virtues of the Blessed Virgin.”

We must unite ourselves to Jesus through Mary - this is the characteristic of our devotion; therefore, Saint Louis De Montfort asks that we employ ourselves in acquiring a knowledge of the Blessed Virgin.

Mary is our sovereign and our mediatrix, our Mother and our Mistress. Let us then endeavor to know the effects of this royalty, of this mediation, and of this maternity, as well as the grandeurs and prerogatives which are the foundation or consequences thereof. Our Mother is also a perfect mold wherein we are to be molded in order to make her intentions and dispositions ours. This we cannot achieve without studying the interior life of Mary; namely, her virtues, her sentiments, her actions, her participation in the mysteries of Christ and her union with Him.

Luke 2:16-21, 45-52

And they came with haste; and they found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in the manger. And seeing, they understood of the word that had been spoken to them concerning this child. And all that heard, wondered; and at those things that were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these words, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all the things they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them. And after eight days were accomplished, that the child should be circumcised, his name was called JESUS, which was called by the angel, before he was conceived in the womb...

Jesus Chooses to Work Through Mary

God wishes to reveal and make known Mary, the masterpiece of His hands, in these latter times:

1. Because she hid herself in this world and put herself lower than the dust by her profound humility.
2. Because, as she is the masterpiece of the hands of God, He wishes to be glorified and praised in her by those who are living upon the earth.
3. As she is the dawn which precedes and reveals Jesus Christ, she must be seen and recognized in order that He may also be.
4. Being the way by which Jesus came to us the first time, she will also be the way by which He will come the second time, though not in the same manner.
5. Being the sure means and the straight way to go to Jesus Christ and to find Him perfectly, it is by her that the souls, who are to shine forth especially in sanctity, have to find Our Lord.

He who shall find Mary shall find life (Prov. 8:35), that is, Jesus Christ, who is the Way, the Truth and the Life. (Jn. 14:6). But no one can find Mary who does not seek her; and no one can seek her who does not know her; for we cannot seek or desire an unknown object. It is necessary, then, for the greater knowledge and glory of the Most Holy Trinity, that Mary should be more than ever known.

6. Mary must shine forth more than ever in mercy, in might and in grace, in these latter times: in mercy, to bring back and lovingly receive the poor strayed sinners; in might, against the enemies of God who shall rise in terrible revolt against

God, to seduce all those who shall oppose them and to make them fall by promises and threats; and finally, she must shine forth in grace, in order to animate and sustain the valiant soldiers and faithful servants of Jesus Christ, who shall battle for His interests.

7. Lastly, Mary must be terrible to the devil and his crew, as an army arrayed in battle, principally in these latter times, because the devil, knowing that he has but little time to destroy souls, will every day redouble his efforts and his combats.

Thursday of the 3rd Week

Mary and the Struggle Against Satan.

What Lucifer has lost by pride; Mary has gained by humility. What Eve has damned and lost by disobedience; Mary has saved by obedience. Eve, in obeying the serpent, has destroyed all her children together with herself, and has delivered them to him; Mary, in being perfectly faithful to God, has saved all her children and servants together with herself, and has consecrated them to His Majesty.

God has not only set an enmity, but enmities, not simply between Mary and the devil, but between the race of the holy Virgin and the race of the devil; that is to say, God has set enmities, antipathies and secret hatreds between the true children and servants of Mary and the children and slaves of the devil. They have no love or sympathy for each other. The children of Belial, the slaves of Satan, the friends of the world (for it is the same thing), have always, up to this time, persecuted those who belong to Our Blessed Lady and will, in the future, persecute them more than ever.

But the humble Mary will always have the victory over that proud spirit, and so great a victory that she will go so far as to crush his head, where his pride dwells. She will always discover the malice of the serpent. She will always lay bare his infernal plots and dissipate his diabolical councils, and even to the end of time will guard her faithful servants from his cruel claw.

But the power of Mary over all the devils will especially shine forth in the latter times, when Satan will lay his snares against her heel: that is to say, her humble slaves and her poor children, whom she will raise up to make war against him. They shall be little and poor in the world's esteem, and abased before all like the heel, trodden underfoot and persecuted, as the heel is by the other members of the body. But in return for this they shall be rich in the grace of God, which Mary shall distribute to them abundantly. They shall be great and exalted before God in sanctity, superior to all other creatures by their lively zeal, and so well sustained with God's assistance that, with the humility of their heel, in union with Mary, they shall crush the head of the devil and cause Jesus Christ to triumph.

The Most Holy Rosary

Many great things have been said of the Holy Rosary by saints, popes, theologians and even devils. Padre Pio used to call the Rosary "the weapon." Pope Pius IX said: "I could conquer the world if I had an army to say the Rosary." Pope Pius XI adds: "The Rosary is a powerful weapon to put the demons to flight and to keep oneself from sin....It serves admirably to overcome the enemies of God and of religion....If you desire peace in your hearts, in your homes, and in your country, assemble each evening to recite the Rosary. Let not even one day pass without saying it, no matter how burdened you may be with many cares and labors." Pope Pius IX testifies that: "Among all the devotions approved by the Church, none has been so favored by so many miracles as the Rosary."

St. Louis de Montfort speaks of the "true disciples of Jesus Christ, walking...according to the holy Gospel and not according to the maxims of the world....They shall carry on their shoulders the bloody standard of the Cross, the Crucifix in their right hand and the Rosary in their left, the sacred Names of Jesus and Mary in their hearts..." (True Devotion, §59). That is why Our Lady, in this Age of Mary, has insisted upon the Rosary so much.

The Fifteen Mysteries

St. Dominic has divided up the lives of Our Lord and Our Lady into fifteen mysteries which stand for their virtues and their most important actions. These are the fifteen pictures whose every detail must rule and inspire our lives. They are fifteen shining mirrors which help us to know Jesus and Mary and to know ourselves as well. They will also help light the fire of their love in our hearts.

Our Lady taught St. Dominic this excellent method of praying and ordered him to preach it far and wide, so as to reawaken the fervor of Christians and to revive in their hearts a love for Our Blessed Lord. She also taught it to Blessed Alan de la Roche and said to him in a vision: “When people say one hundred and fifty Angelic Salutations this prayer is very helpful to them and is a very pleasing tribute to me. But they will do better still and will please me even more if they say these salutations while meditating on the life, death and passion of Jesus Christ for this meditation is the soul of this prayer.” In reality, the Rosary said without meditating on the sacred mysteries of our salvation would be almost like a body without a soul: excellent matter but without the form which is meditation—this latter being that which sets it apart from all other devotions.

Saturday of the 3rd Week

Spiritual Significance of the of the Brown Scapular

In His dealings with us, God shows a preference for the simple things of life. What could be simpler than the manger of rough straw in which His life here below began! That same simplicity went with Him to the grave. He instituted a sacramental system, in which seven simple elements became the efficient signs of divine grace, e.g. since the natural function of water is to wash, He chose it to show us what His grace does for the soul stained by Original Sin.

The spiritual significance of a simple garment is perhaps as old as human society itself. A garment has always signified something more important than itself, e.g. after the Fall, God clothed our first parent and the garments He gave them were the sign of His forgiveness.

The Scapular is a sign of our special adoption by the Mother of God. The first and the greatest privilege it brings is that it envelops us in the special love of our Blessed Mother and it makes us “hers” in a very special way. A mother’s love is the most practical thing in existence. It is never satisfied with words, but is always pouring itself out on someone. Love of a mother is capable of the greatest sacrifices. When we see Our Lady with the sword of Simeon plunged deeply into her heart, how can we ever doubt that her love for mankind is as practical as that of her Divine Son?

Mary’s Protection

Through the Scapular, Our Lady has called us the “sons of her choice,” that our souls may live for her sake. The dazzling splendor of her holiness makes her the terror of demons and She is “terrible as an army in battle array” against all the forces of evil that would molest us or attempt to snatch us from under the mantle of her maternal protection. As the Queen of Angels, she can summon legions of heavenly hosts to our defense.

As long as we live our lives and finish our course under the sweet protection of her mantle, we have nothing to fear. Our path to heaven is made easy by her who crushed the serpent’s head and shared the glorious victory of her risen Son. The ever-vigilant eye of our Blessed Mother is always upon those who wear her Habit. The might of her love follows us and whithersoever we go and wherever we dwell it is about us.

Sunday of the 3rd Week

Reflecting Mary – The Image of Christ

Pope Pius XII wrote: “May they all see in this Scapular a mirror of humility and purity; may they read in the very simplicity of the Garment a concise lesson in modesty and simplicity.”

Mary is the living image of Christ, the deepest and most beautiful revelation of Him to the poor banished children of Eve. She is the first fruit of the Redemption, the first and greatest of the Redeemed in whom one finds God’s original design for human living in all the splendor of original justice. She is the prototype of the perfect Christian and of the Church.

Immaculate Purity

Mary's spotless purity made her soul the living image of the holiness of God and of the Church, the Spouse of Christ. Souls that follow her example reflect this heavenly splendor and prepare themselves for union with God. They see God even in this life and will see Him face to face in the next.

The Scapular should be a constant reminder of the absolute purity of Mary and of our duty to imitate her. It should separate us from all that is not holy and inspire us to greater and greater purification of our lives. Blessed, indeed, are the clean of heart for they shall see God.

All for God and God Alone

The burning desire of Mary's soul is to form her Son in us, whom grace has made His brothers. How easy it should be to find Him in her. The way to become all God wants us to be, is Mary's way. Virtue can grow from no seed that is not the word of God planted in our souls, covered with the warm love of our hearts and watered by the living water of divine grace. Here again she is the model of total surrender to God. It is not enough to keep our hearts clean: they must be given to God that He may possess them. We die to self, so that we may live to Him, and the life that is lived in His Will is bound to become holy. The Scapular has no other meaning than this. When it is received, we are reminded that it is a symbol of the yoke of Christ and of the burden that is light when carried with Mary's help. It makes us Mary's and the command she gives us is "whatsoever He shall say to you, do ye." We cast aside the world and the desires of the flesh and live to clothe ourselves with the new man, who was created according to God in justice and holiness of life. The Scapular is the life that we live, day in and day out, that glorifies God and our love for Him should be so great, that it cannot be expressed any other way. If we offer our life, as it is, to God, to do as He wills, then His holiness is sure to invade it, influence it and change it.

Fourth Week

Monday of the 4th Week

Knowing Jesus

Here on earth, two of the principal ways in which we can come to know and love Jesus are the Cross and Communion. If we were to try and simplify it still further, then the Sacrifice of the Mass would say it all. For the Mass is both a Sacrifice (the Cross) and a Sacrament (Communion). If we want to find Jesus, then we will find Him in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We arrive at an ever-deeper knowledge and understanding of Christ by entering more and more into the spirit of the Mass, which is none other than the spirit of Jesus. It is through the Mass that we accomplish our principal duties towards God—adoration, propitiation, petition and thanksgiving. In the Mass, through the Gospel readings, we continually dwell upon the life and spirit of Jesus; His spirit is also handed down to us through the writings of His immediate disciples; the Mass imparts to us the sacrificial spirit of Christ that led Him to work tirelessly for the salvation of sinners. It is in the Mass, during Holy Communion, that we enter into a most intimate union with Our Lord Jesus Christ. It is by a fruitful reception of that Sacrament, that we are sanctified and transformed into other “Christs” and receive the graces and the strength to continue Christ’s salvific work, as His instruments, in the world around us.

If the Head of the Mystical Body passed by the way of the cross, then it would be spiritual suicide for the Mystical Body to go in an opposite direction to Its Head. In the Cross is salvation; in the Cross is satisfaction for sin; in the Cross is peace; in the Cross is the power of conversion; in the Cross is our merit and our glory.

However, Our Lord is not only found in the Cross, He is also present—Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity—in the Holy Eucharist. The Eucharist is both a Sacrifice (of the Cross) and a Sacrament that communicates Our Lord and His graces to us. The Eucharist strengthens us and makes light the burden of the Cross.

Our Lord could and would do so much more for us, if we would only enter into that intimate union that can be ours in Holy Communion. By a much more fervent participation in the Sacrifice of the Mass and a more fruitful reception of the Sacrament of the Eucharist, our understanding and appreciation of the Cross of Jesus will greatly increase, not to mention our growth in the true spirit of Christ, whereby we will be able to say with St. Paul: “...with Christ I am nailed to the cross. And I live, now not I: but Christ liveth in me” (Gal. 2:19-20).

Matthew 11:29-30

Come to me, all you that labor and are burdened, and I will refresh you. Take up my yoke upon you and learn of me, because I am meek and humble of heart: and you shall find rest for your souls. For my yoke is sweet and my burden light!

Tuesday of the 4th Week

From St. Louis de Montfort’s True Devotion to Mary, §60

Jesus Christ—the Beginning and End of All Things

Jesus Christ our Savior, true God and true Man, ought to be the last end of all our other devotions, else they are false and delusive. Jesus Christ is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, of all things. It is in Him alone that we have been blessed with all spiritual benediction; and He is our only Master, Who has to teach us; our only Lord on Whom we ought to depend; our only Head to Whom we must be united; our only Model to Whom we should conform ourselves; our only Physician Who can heal us; our only Shepherd Who can feed us; our only Way Who can lead us; our only Truth Whom we must believe; our only Life Who can animate us; and our only All in all things Who can satisfy us.

There has been no other name given under heaven, except the name of Jesus, by which we can be saved. God has laid no other foundation of our salvation, our perfection or our glory, than Jesus Christ. Outside of Him there exists nothing but error, falsehood, iniquity, futility, death and damnation. But if we are in Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ is in us, we have no condemnation to fear.

From St. Louis de Montfort's True Devotion to Mary, §68 ff.

Through Mary, We Belong to Jesus

We must conclude that we do not belong to ourselves but are entirely His, as His members and His slaves, whom He has bought at an infinitely dear price, the price of all His Blood. Before Baptism we belonged to the devil, as his slaves; but Baptism has made us true slaves of Jesus Christ, who have no right to live, to work or to die, except to bring forth fruit for that God-Man (Rom. 7:4); to glorify Him in our bodies and to let Him reign in our souls, because we are His conquest, His acquired people and His inheritance.

I say that we ought to belong to Jesus Christ, and to serve Him not only as mercenary servants, but as loving slaves who, as a result of their great love, give themselves up to serve Him in the quality of slaves simply for the honor of belonging to Him. Christians must needs be either the slaves of the devil or the slaves of Jesus Christ.

From St. Louis de Montfort's True Devotion to Mary, §84

To Jesus Through Mary

Our Lord is our advocate and Mediator of redemption with God the Father. It is through Him that we ought to pray, in union with the whole Church, Triumphant and Militant. It is through Him that we have access to the Majesty of the Father, before Whom we ought never to appear except sustained and clothed with the merits of His Son. But St. Bernard tells us that we have need of a mediator with the Mediator Himself, and that it is the divine Mary who is the most capable of filling that charitable office. It was through her that Jesus Christ came to us, and it is through her that we must go to Him.

Wednesday of the 4th Week

Imitation of Christ*, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 1, Chapter 1
Of the Imitation of Christ, and Contempt of all the Vanities of the World

He that follows Me, walketh not in darkness (John 8:12), saith the Lord. These are the words of Christ, by which we are admonished, how we ought to imitate His life and manners, if we would truly be enlightened, and delivered from all blindness of heart. Let therefore our greatest endeavor be, to meditate upon the life of Jesus Christ.

The doctrine of Christ exceeds all the doctrine of holy men.; and he that hath the Spirit will find therein the hidden manna (Apocalypse. 2:17). But it falls out that many who often hear the Gospel of Christ, feel little desire for it, because they have not the Spirit of Christ (Rom. 8:9). But Whosoever will fully and with relish understand the words of Christ, must endeavor to conform his life wholly to the life of Christ.

What does it avail you to discourse profoundly of the Trinity, if you be void of humility, and art thereby displeasing to the Trinity? Surely profound words do not make a man holy and just; but a virtuous life makes him dear to God. I would rather feel contrition, than know the definition thereof. If you knew the whole Bible by heart, and the sayings of all the philosophers, what would all that profit you without the love of God (1 Cor. 13:2), and without His grace?

Vanity of vanities, and all is vanity (Eccles. 1:2), except to love God, and to serve Him only. This is the highest wisdom, by contempt of the world to press forward towards heavenly kingdoms.

Thursday of the 4th Week

From St. Louis de Montfort's Friends of the Cross, §13 ff.

The Obligation of Self-Denial and Imitating Christ By the Way of the Cross

Christian perfection consists:

- In willing to be a saint: "If any man will come after Me";
- In self-denial: "Let him deny himself";
- In suffering: "Let him take up his cross";
- In doing: "Let him follow Me."

The Desire to Become a Saint

If anyone wills: if a person has a real and definite determination and is prompted not by natural feelings, habit, self-love, personal interest or human respect but by an all-masterful grace of the Holy Ghost which is not communicated indiscriminately. The man who climbs up to Calvary and lets himself be nailed on the Cross with Jesus must be a brave and resolute man. He must be resolved to relinquish all things, to undertake anything and to suffer everything for Jesus.

From St. Louis de Montfort's Friends of the Cross, §17 ff.

Self-Denial

Therefore, if anyone wants to come after Me, annihilated and crucified, he must glory as I did only in the poverty, humiliation and suffering of My Cross: "let him deny himself" (Mt.16:24).

Far be from the Company of the Friends of the Cross those who pride themselves in suffering, the worldly-wise elated geniuses and self-conceited individuals who are stubborn and puffed-up with their lights and talents. Far be they from us, those endless talkers who make plenty of noise, but bring forth no other fruit than vainglory. Far from us those high-browed devotees everywhere displaying the self-sufficient pride of Lucifer: "I am not like the rest!" (Lk.18:11). Far be from us those who must always justify themselves when blamed, resist when attacked and exalt themselves when humbled.

Friday of the 4th Week

Matthew 27:36-44

And they sat and watched him. And they put over his head his cause written: THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. Then were crucified with him two thieves: one on the right hand, and one on the left. And they that passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads, And saying: Vah, thou that destroyest the temple of God, and in three days dost rebuild it: save thy own self: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests, with the scribes and ancients, mocking, said: He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him now deliver him if he will have him; for he said: I am the Son of God. And the selfsame thing the thieves also, that were crucified with him, reproached him with.

Imitation of Christ, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 2, Chapter 12
Of the King's High Way of the Holy Cross

Unto many this seemeth an hard saying, "Deny thyself, take up thy cross, and follow Jesus" (Matt. 16:24). But much harder will it be to hear that last word, "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire" (Matt. 25:41). For they who now willingly hear and follow the word of the Cross, shall not then fear (Psalm 112:7) to hear the sentence of everlasting damnation. This sign of the Cross shall be in the heaven, when the Lord shall come to judgment (Matt. 24:30). Then all the servants of the Cross, who in their life-time conformed themselves unto Christ crucified, shall draw near unto Christ the Judge with great confidence.

Why therefore fearest thou to take up the Cross which leadeth thee to a kingdom? In the Cross is salvation, in the Cross is life, in the Cross is protection against our enemies, in the Cross is infusion of heavenly sweetness, in the Cross is strength of mind, in the Cross joy of spirit, in the Cross the height of virtue, in the Cross the perfection of holiness.

Take up therefore thy Cross and follow Jesus (Luke 14:27), and thou shalt go into life everlasting.

Saturday of the 4th Week

Imitation of Christ, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 4, Chapter 2

That the Great Goodness and Love of God Is Exhibited to Man in
This Sacrament

In confidence of Thy goodness and great mercy, O Lord, I draw near, sick to the Healer, hungry and thirsty to the Fountain of life, needy to the King of Heaven, a servant to his Lord, a creature to the Creator, desolate to my own tender Comforter. "But whence is this to me that Thou comest unto me" (Luke 1:43)? What am I, that Thou shouldest grant me Thine own self? how dare a sinner appear before Thee?

And how is it that Thou dost vouchsafe to come unto a sinner? Thou knowest Thy servant, and art well aware that he hath in him no good thing, for which Thou shouldest grant him this. I confess therefore mine own vileness, I acknowledge Thy goodness, I praise Thy tender mercy, and give Thee thanks for Thy transcendent love.

Imitation of Christ, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 4, Chapter 11

That the Blood of Christ is Most Necessary unto a Faithful Soul

O most sweet Lord Jesus, how great is the pleasure of the devout soul that feasteth with Thee in Thy banquet; where there is set for her no other food to be eaten but Thyself, her only Beloved, and most to be desired above all the desires of her heart! To me also it would be indeed sweet, in Thy presence to pour forth tears from the very bottom of my heart, and with the grateful Magdalene to wash Thy feet with tears (Luke 7:38). But where is that devotion? Where that bountiful flowing of holy tears? Surely in the sight of Thee and Thy holy Angels, my whole heart ought to burn, and to weep for joy. For in this Sacrament I have Thee mystically present, hidden under another shape. For to look upon Thee in Thine own Divine brightness, mine eyes would not be able to endure; nor could even the whole world stand in the splendor of the glory of Thy majesty. Herein then Thou hast regard to my weakness, that Thou dost hide Thyself under this Sacrament.

Sunday of the 4th Week

Imitation of Christ, by Thomas a Kempis: Book 2, Chapter 7

Of the Love of Jesus above All Things

Blessed is he that understandeth (Psalm 119:1,2) what it is to love Jesus, and to despise himself for Jesus' sake. Thou oughtest to leave thy beloved, for thy beloved (Deut. 6:5; Matt. 22:37; Cant. 2:16); for that Jesus will be loved alone above all things.

The love of things created is deceitful and inconstant; the love of Jesus is faithful and persevering. He that cleaveth unto a creature, shall fall with that which is subject to fall; he that embraceth Jesus shall be made strong for ever.

Love Him, and keep Him for thy friend, who, when all go away, will not forsake thee, nor suffer thee to perish in the end. Some time or other thou must be separated from all, whether thou wilt or no. Keep close to Jesus both in life and in death, and commit thyself unto His faithfulness, who, when all fail, can alone help thee.

Thy Beloved is of that nature, that He will admit of no rival; but will have thy heart alone, and sit on His throne as King. If thou couldest empty thyself perfectly from all creatures, Jesus would willingly dwell with thee.

John 21:15-19

When therefore they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter: Simon son of John, lovest thou me more than these? He saith to him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him: Feed my lambs. He saith to him again: Simon, son of John, lovest thou me? He saith to him: Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him: Feed my lambs. He said to him the third time: Simon, son of John, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he had said to him the third time: Lovest thou me? And he said to him: Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I love thee. He said to him: Feed my sheep. Amen, amen I say to thee, when thou wast younger, thou didst gird thyself, and didst walk where thou wouldst. But when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldst not. And this he said, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said this, he saith to him: Follow me.

Fifth Week

After the daily reading, recite the prayer O Jesus Living in Mary
p. 49

Write out by hand the prayer of consecration.

Monday of the 5th Week

Final Preparations

We now enter the final stage of our preparation for our True Devotion Consecration to Mary—or more strictly speaking, our Consecration to Jesus through Mary. We may feel unworthy in proceeding with this Consecration, perhaps due to some negligence during the last four weeks of preparation. It is rare and unlikely that anyone will have made an entirely perfect and truly acceptable preparation, but that is not a sufficient reason for not making the Consecration. I remind you of the fact that “the just man sins seven times a day” and so it would be surprising if you did not fail in some way or another in your preparations. Nothing would please the devil more, than to make you miss the Consecration through feelings of inadequacy or guilt. And nothing would please Our Lord and Our Lady more than a humble admission of your inadequacy as you proceed on your way. Just as children are largely inadequate when they start a coaching session, only to improve with each successive session, so too should each annual renewal show an improvement in our preparation.

In the first week we uncovered the Spirit of the World and then in the second week we examined ourselves to how that spirit had affected us or contaminated us—with the intention of leaving that worldly, fleshly, devilish spirit behind us, in our ascent towards God. However, nature abhors a vacuum, and so we had to replace the spirit of the world by another spirit. This was the spirit of Jesus and Mary. Thus, in order to acquire that spirit, the third week saw us grow in a knowledge, appreciation and imitation of the Our Blessed Lady; whereas last week we studied Our Blessed Lord in order to imitate Him and acquire His spirit.

To finish our 5-week long preparation we will have a brief look at the consequences of our Consecration by examining some of the devotional practices that St. Louis recommends for our “Life after the Consecration.”

We would like to remind those making the Consecration for the first time, that they are simply planting the seeds of True Devotion for the first time. They should not expect to see a fully grown “Tree of Life” — which Mary is—the next day! Just as in nature, this “Tree of Life” will gently grow day by day, year by year, until one day you will be able to say: “It is no longer I that live, but Mary that lives in me!”

Tuesday of the 5th Week

Devotion to the Hail Mary

Those who adopt this slavery ought also to have a great devotion to saying the Hail Mary (the Angelical Salutation). Few Christians, however enlightened, know the real value, merit, excellence, and necessity of the Hail Mary. It was necessary for the Blessed Virgin to appear several times to great and enlightened saints to show them the merit of it. She did so to St. Dominic, St. John Capistran and Blessed Alan de la Roche (True Devotion §249).

They have composed entire works on the wonders and efficacy of that prayer for converting souls. They have loudly proclaimed and openly preached that, salvation having begun with the Hail Mary, the salvation of each one of us in particular is attached to that prayer. They tell us that it is that prayer which made the dry and barren earth bring forth the fruit of life; and that it is that prayer well said which makes the word of God germinate in our souls, and bring forth Jesus Christ, the Fruit of Life (True Devotion §249).

They tell us that the Hail Mary is a heavenly dew for watering the earth, which is the soul, to make it bring forth its fruit in season; and that a soul which is not watered by that prayer bears no fruit, and brings forth only thorns and brambles, and is ready to be cursed (Heb. 6:8) (True Devotion §249).

Let us remember the divine origins of this beautiful prayer. God the Father sent the Angel Gabriel with those opening words: “Hail, full of grace! The Lord is with thee! Blessed art thou among women!” While God the Holy Ghost spoke through the mouth of St. Elizabeth, saying: Blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb!” These words, carefully chosen by God Himself, should be engraved with love and reverence upon our hearts. I recommend that you read parts of St. Louis De Montfort’s book, The Secret of the Rosary, in order to have a greater understanding and love of this beautiful Angelic Salutation.

Wednesday of the 5th Week

Performing All Our Actions with Mary

We must do all our actions with Mary; that is to say, we must in all our actions regard Mary as an accomplished model of every virtue and perfection which the Holy Ghost has formed in a pure creature for us to imitate according to our little measure. We must therefore in every action consider how Mary has done it, or how she would have done it, had she been in our place. For that end we must examine and meditate on the great virtues which she practiced during her life, and particularly, first of all, her lively faith, by which she believed without hesitation the angel’s word, and believed faithfully and constantly up to the foot of the cross; secondly, her profound humility, which made her hide herself, hold her peace, submit to everything, and put herself the last of all; and, thirdly, her altogether divine purity, which never has had, and never can have, its equal under heaven; and so on with all of her other virtues. Let us remember, I repeat, that Mary is the great and exclusive mold of God, proper to making living images of God at small cost and in a little time; and that a soul which has found that mold, and has lost itself in it, is presently changed into Jesus Christ, Whom that mold represents to the life (True Devotion §260).

Thursday of the 5th Week

Performing All Our Actions in Mary

We must do our actions in Mary. To thoroughly understand this practice, we must first know that our Blessed Lady is the true terrestrial paradise of the New Adam, and that the ancient paradise was but a figure of her. There are, then, in this earthly paradise, riches, beauties, rarities and inexplicable sweetness which Jesus Christ, the New Adam, has left there; it was in this paradise that He took His complacency for nine months, worked His wonders and displayed His riches with the magnificence of a God (True Devotion §261).

This most holy place is composed only of a virginal and immaculate earth, of which the New Adam was formed, and on which He was nourished, without any spot or stain, by the operation of the Holy Ghost, who dwelt there. It is in this earthly paradise that there is the true tree of life, which has borne Jesus Christ, the Fruit of Life, and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, which has given light unto the world (True Devotion §261).

There are in this divine place trees planted by the hand of God, and watered by His divine unction, which have borne and daily bear fruits of a divine taste. There are flower beds adorned with beautiful and varied blossoms of virtues diffusing odors which delight the very angels (True Devotion §261).

There are meadows green with hope, impregnable towers of strength, and the most charming houses of confidence. It is only the Holy Ghost who can make us know the hidden truth of these figures of material things (True Devotion §261).

There is in this place an air of perfect purity; a fair sun, without shadow, of the Divinity; a fair day, without night, of the Sacred Humanity; a continual burning furnace of love, where all the iron that is cast into it is changed, by excessive heat, to gold (True Devotion §261).

There is a river of humility which springs from the earth, and which, dividing itself into four branches, waters all that enchanted place; and these are the four cardinal virtues (True Devotion §261).

Friday of the 5th Week

Performing All Our Actions for Mary

Finally, we must do all our actions for Mary. As we have given ourselves up entirely to her service, it is but just to do everything for her as servants and slaves. It is not that we take her for the last end of our services, for that is Jesus Christ alone; but we take her for our proximate end, our mysterious means and our easy way to go to Him. Like good servants and slaves, we must not remain idle, but, supported by her protection, we must undertake and achieve great things for this august sovereign (True Devotion §265).

We must defend her privileges when they are disputed; we must stand up for her glory when it is attacked; we must draw all the world, if we can, to her service, and to this true and solid devotion; we must speak and cry out against those who abuse her devotion to outrage her Son, and we must at the same time establish this veritable devotion; we must pretend to no recompense for our little services, except the honor of belonging to so sweet a Queen, and the happiness of being united through her to Jesus her Son by an indissoluble tie, in time and in eternity. Glory to Jesus in Mary! Glory to Mary in Jesus! Glory to God alone! (True Devotion §265).

Saturday of the 5th Week

Going to Holy Communion with Mary

Manner of practicing this devotion when we go to Holy Communion

1. You must humble yourself most profoundly before God.
2. You must renounce your corrupt interior and your dispositions, however good your self-love may make them look.
3. You must renew your consecration by saying: “I am all thine, my dear Mistress, with all that I have.”
4. You must implore that good Mother to lend you her heart, that you may receive her Son there with the same dispositions as her own (True Devotion §266).

You will tell her confidently that all you have given her of your goods is little enough to honor her; but that by Holy Communion you wish to make her the same present as the Eternal Father gave her, and that you will honor her more by that than if you gave her all the goods in the world and finally, that Jesus, who loves her in a most special manner, still desires to take His pleasure and repose in her, even in your soul, though it be far filthier and poorer than the stable where He did not hesitate to come, simply because she was there. (True Devotion §266).

After the Our Father, just before receiving Jesus Christ, you say three times: “Lord, I am not worthy.” Say the first one to the Eternal Father, telling Him you are not worthy, because of your evil thoughts and ingratitude toward so good a Father, to receive His only Son. (True Devotion §267).

You will say to the Son: “Lord, I am not worthy”; telling Him that you are not worthy to receive Him because of your idle and evil words and your infidelity to His service; but that nevertheless you pray Him to have pity on you, because you are about to bring Him into the house of His own Mother and yours, and that you will not let Him go without His coming to lodge with her. (True Devotion §268).

You will say to the Holy Ghost: “Lord, I am not worthy”; telling Him that you are not worthy to receive this masterpiece of His charity, because of the lukewarmness and iniquity of your actions, and because of your resistance to His inspirations; but that all your confidence is in Mary, His faithful spouse. You will say, with St. Bernard: “She is my greatest security; she is the source of all my hope.” (True Devotion §269).

After Holy Communion, inwardly recollected and holding your eyes shut, you will introduce Jesus into the heart of Mary. You will give Him to His Mother, who will receive Him lovingly, will place Him honorably, will adore Him profoundly, will love Him perfectly, will embrace Him closely, and will render to Him, in spirit and in truth, many homages which are unknown to us in our thick darkness (True Devotion §270).

Or else you will keep yourself profoundly humbled in your heart, in the presence of Jesus residing in Mary and go in spirit to heaven and over all the earth, praying all creatures to thank, adore and love Jesus and Mary in your place. (True Devotion §271).

Or else you will yourself ask of Jesus, in union with Mary, the coming of His kingdom on earth, through His holy Mother, or for divine love, or for the pardon of your sins, or for some other grace; but always by Mary and in Mary; saying, while you look aside at yourself: “Lord, look not at my sins, but let Your eyes look at nothing in me but the virtues and merits of Mary.” (True Devotion §272).

Always remember that the more you allow Mary to act in your Communion, the more Jesus will be glorified; and you will allow Mary to act for Jesus and Jesus to act in Mary in the measure that you humble yourself and listen to them in peace and in silence, without troubling yourself about seeing, tasting or feeling; for the just man lives throughout on faith, and particularly in Holy Communion, which is an action of faith: “My just man liveth by faith” (Heb. 10:38) (True Devotion §273).

Sunday - Day of Consecration

On the day of consecration, either fast, give alms, or offer a votive candle for the good of another (or all of the above); do some spiritual penance and approach consecration in the spirit of mortification.

Now go to Confession (or, if that is not possible, go during the 8 days prior) and then receive Communion with the intention of giving yourself to Jesus, as a slave of love, by the hands of Mary. Try to receive Communion per the method spoken of in yesterday’s reading.

Now pray the words of the consecration. Copy them and have them with you at church, read them after the Mass (in front of the tabernacle would be nice), and sign your copy of the Act of Consecration.

The words of consecration are:

O Eternal and incarnate Wisdom! O sweetest and most adorable Jesus! True God and true man, only Son of the Eternal Father, and of Mary, always virgin! I adore Thee profoundly in the bosom and splendors of Thy Father during eternity; and I adore Thee also in the virginal bosom of Mary, Thy most worthy Mother, in the time of Thine incarnation.

I give Thee thanks for that Thou hast annihilated Thyself, taking the form of a slave in order to rescue me from the cruel slavery of the devil. I praise and glorify Thee for that Thou hast been pleased to submit Thyself to Mary, Thy holy Mother, in all things, in order to make me Thy faithful slave through her. But, alas! Ungrateful and faithless as I have been, I have not kept the promises which I made so solemnly to Thee in my Baptism; I have not fulfilled my obligations; I do not deserve to be called Thy child, nor yet Thy slave; and as there is nothing in me which does not merit Thine anger and Thy repulse, I dare not come by myself before Thy most holy and august Majesty. It is on this account that I have recourse to the intercession of Thy most holy Mother, whom Thou hast given me for a mediatrix with Thee. It is through her that I hope to obtain of Thee contrition, the pardon of my sins, and the acquisition and preservation of wisdom.

Hail, then, O immaculate Mary, living tabernacle of the Divinity, where the Eternal Wisdom willed to be hidden and to be adored by angels and by men! Hail, O Queen of Heaven and earth, to whose empire everything is subject which is under God. Hail, O sure refuge of sinners, whose mercy fails no one. Hear the desires which I have of the Divine Wisdom; and for that end receive the vows and offerings which in my lowliness I present to thee.

I, N. , a faithless sinner, renew and ratify today in thy hands the vows of my Baptism; I renounce forever Satan, his pomps and works; and I give myself entirely to Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Wisdom, to carry my cross after Him all the days of my life, and to be more faithful to Him than I have ever been before. In the presence of all the heavenly court I choose thee this day for my Mother and Mistress. I deliver and consecrate to thee, as thy slave, my body and soul, my goods, both interior and exterior, and even the value of all my good actions, past, present and future; leaving to thee the entire and full right of disposing of me, and all that belongs to me, without exception, according to thy good pleasure, for the greater glory of God in time and in eternity.

Receive, O benignant Virgin, this little offering of my slavery, in honor of, and in union with, that subjection which the Eternal Wisdom deigned to have to thy maternity; in homage to the power which both of you have over this poor sinner, and in thanksgiving for the privileges with which the Holy Trinity has favored thee. I declare that I wish henceforth, as thy true slave, to seek thy honor and to obey thee in all things.

O admirable Mother, present me to thy dear Son as His eternal slave, so that as He has redeemed me by thee, by thee He may receive me! O Mother of mercy, grant me the grace to obtain the true Wisdom of God; and for that end receive me among those whom thou lovest and teachest, whom thou leadest, nourishest and protectest as thy children and thy slaves.

O faithful Virgin, make me in all things so perfect a disciple, imitator and slave of the Incarnate Wisdom, Jesus Christ thy Son, that I may attain, by thine intercession and by thine example, to the fullness of His age on earth and of His glory in Heaven. Amen.

After Consecration

Once you have consecrated yourself to Jesus through Mary, live that consecration. St. Louis-Marie de Montfort recommended the following:

- Keep praying to develop a “great contempt” for the spirit of this world
- Maintain a special devotion to the Mystery of the Incarnation (e.g., through meditation; spiritual reading; focusing on Feasts centering around the Incarnation, such as the Annunciation and the Nativity, etc.)
- Frequently recite the Ave, Rosary, and the Magnificat
- Do everything through, with, in and for Mary for the sake of Jesus, with the prayer, “I am all thine Immaculate One, with all that I have: in time and in eternity” in your heart and on your lips
- Associate yourself with Mary in a special way before, during, and after Communion
- Renew the consecration once a year, and by following the same five-week period of exercises. If desired, also renew the consecration monthly with the prayer, “I am all thine and all I have is thine, O dear Jesus, through Mary, Thy holy Mother.”

Prayers Recited Throughout the Consecration Preparation

Veni Creator

Come, Holy Spirit, Creator blest, and in our souls take up Thy rest;
come with Thy grace and heavenly aid to fill the hearts which Thou hast made.

O comforter, to Thee we cry,
O heavenly gift of God Most High,
O fount of life and fire of love, and sweet anointing from above.

Thou in Thy sevenfold gifts are known;
Thou, finger of God's hand we own;
Thou, promise of the Father,
Thou Who dost the tongue with power imbue.

Kindle our sense from above,
and make our hearts o'erflow with love;
with patience firm and virtue high the weakness of our flesh supply.

Far from us drive the foe we dread,
and grant us Thy peace instead;
so shall we not, with Thee for guide,
turn from the path of life aside.

Oh, may Thy grace on us bestow
the Father and the Son to know;
and Thee, through endless times confessed,
of both the eternal Spirit blest.

Now to the Father and the Son,
Who rose from death, be glory given,
with Thou, O Holy Comforter, henceforth by all in earth and heaven. Amen.

Ave Maris Stella

Hail, O Star of the ocean,
God's own Mother blest,
ever sinless Virgin,
gate of heav'nly rest.

Taking that sweet Ave,
which from Gabriel came,
peace confirm within us,
changing Eve's name.

Break the sinners' fetters,
make our blindness day,
Chase all evils from us,
for all blessings pray.

Show thyself a Mother,
may the Word divine
born for us thine Infant hear our prayers through thine.

Virgin all excelling,
mildest of the mild,
free from guilt preserve us
meek and undefiled.

Keep our life all spotless,
make our way secure
till we find in Jesus,
joy for evermore.

Praise to God the Father,
honor to the Son,
in the Holy Spirit,
be the glory one. Amen.

Let us pray.

Almighty and eternal God, consider the Heart of Thy well-beloved Son and the praises and satisfaction He offers Thee in the name of sinners; appeased by worthy homage, pardon those who implore Thy mercy, in the name of the same Jesus Christ Thy Son, who lives and reigns with Thee, world without end. R. Amen.

O Jesus Living in Mary

O Jesus living in Mary,
Come and live in Thy servants,
In the spirit of Thy holiness,
In the fullness of Thy might,
In the truth of Thy virtues,
In the perfection of Thy ways,
In the communion of Thy mysteries;
Subdue every hostile power
In Thy spirit, for the glory of the Father. Amen.
